

WE NOMINATE

Howard Edwards Schrader, whose devotion for the past 35 years to one of the most unusual hobbies ever recorded in these pages has made possible the current Princeton University Library exhibition commemorating the 75th anniversary of the first observation of the "Edison Effect." While any number of museums and educational institutions have taken scholarly notice of the diamond anniversary of the perfection of the first electric light bulb, it remained for this community and the 49-year old Schrader to demonstrate how Thomas Edison's accidental discovery of the flow of electrons became the basis of the modern electronics industry.

It was in 1919, when satisfactory radio reception was something to marvel at, that Schrader, a native of Trenton and a lifelong resident of the Princeton area, invested $3.00 in one of the early electronic relays. The new tube, at that time representing a full week's work as a reporter-photographer, suddenly burned out and Schrader decided then and there that a tube of any sort was too valuable to consign to the trash-barrel. He started collecting and now his collection—ranging from some 30 original Edison bulbs to the most recently developed color tubes—numbers more than 6,000 individual items and probably ranks as the finest and most comprehensive collection of its kind in the world.

In arranging the Library showing, which includes the University-owned bulb used in Edison's original "Edison Effect" patent application of 1883, Schrader turned back the clock three-quarters of a century and unearthed materials by-passed by the famed inventor's biographers. For instance, he found that a vacuum pump borrowed from the old School of Science made the first incandescent lamp possible, that Edison turned to Princeton for aid in evaluating the "Edison Effect," that a visiting Princeton professor (one of the consultants in the construction of Palmer Physical Laboratory) was responsible for determining the cause of the flow of electrons from a hot lamp filament. He also found that Princeton physicists have remained active in electronic developments that are based on the "Edison Effect."

Schrader, a former archery champion, a musician and Hi-Fi expert, a licensed airplane pilot since 1947 and an exceptional photographer with seven years of military experience behind him, utilized his collection in documenting the progression of the "Edison Effect" from a scientific phenomenon to the status of a discovery ranking in importance with the discovery of electricity, the electric telegraph and telephone. Such milestones as the tubes used in the first Marconi wireless receivers, the telephone repeaters needed in amplifying the human voice traveling through a wire and the micro-wave relay amplifiers making possible transcontinental TV broadcasts are all illustrated in the exhibition which early next month will be transferred to the State Museum in Trenton.

For broadening Princeton Present's understanding of Princeton Past; for throwing new light on Thomas Alva Edison's role as the "Father of Electronics"; for scoring an "exhibition first" in the University's Harvey S. Firestone Memorial Library, he is Town Topics' nominee for

Topics of the Town

New School Planned. Princeton Township, seemingly in perpetual motion as it grows and grows at an unprecedented rate, this week received news it knew was coming: a new elementary school will have to be built, and the Board of Education has found a place to put it.

The board at its meeting last week received a study completed by Dr. Milton Steinhauer of the Rutgers School of Education which pointed to the need for almost immediate construction of a new school building in the northeast section of the municipality. A booming population has brought with it an even greater boost in school-age population, for the area's new residents are predominately "young married."

A map showing the proposed site will be found on Page 5.
Voters in the Township will be asked to approve purchase of the land on the regular February 8 school election ballot.

Mothers' March Tuesday

The Mothers' March on Polio will be held next Tuesday, starting at 7 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. Velda Altieri and Mrs. Ruth Kleinberg, representing the Soroptimists Club, sponsors of the drive.
Each household wishing to contribute is asked to turn on its porch light.

Next Thursday has been designated "Coffee Day" by the Mercer County March of Dimes campaign committee.
John E. Kerney of 142 Hodge Road is chairman.

All coffee-dispensing places of business, including restaurants, hotels and diners, are being asked not to charge customers for coffee that day. Instead, each person buying a cup will be asked to make a contribution to the March of Dimes.

The 13-acre area (comprising lots 5 and 15 in section 31 of the Township tax map) is owned, surprisingly enough, by the Borough. A purchase price of $7,000 has been set through appraisal and consultation arranged by the Board of Education and Borough officials.

The area involved is about 300 feet northwest of the intersection of Little Brook and Roper roads.
Operating the Stony Brook and recently-expanded Valley Road school buildings, the Township has felt the pressure of population influx and expects to make a resume of Dr. Steinhauer's findings available to all taxpayers in the near future.

School Elections. Wednesday of this week marked the close of school board nominations.
While the Borough followed the regular "no contest" pattern it has exhibited in the past few years, the Township again showed signs of a possible fight.

Petitions received by the borough as of press-time were those of Roger O'Kane and Irving Mer-shon, two long-time incumbents, and of Mrs. William Young and Mrs. Courtland Perkins, the latter both recent interim appointees to the board. The first three are unopposed for the trio of three-year vacancies, while
Mrs. Perkins will fill an unexpired two-year term.

In the Township, Mrs. Olga T.
Smith and Dr. J. Donald Butler, incumbents, filed for re-election, while petitions were expected to be received from John K. White of Roper Road and John Landis, 111 Laurel Road, an unsuccessful candidate a year ago. Missing from the scene was Dr. William S. Carpenter, who will not run again.

Township Rateables Higher.
Figures released by the county tax office this week show that taxable property in Princeton Township increased by a near-incredible 18.4 per cent last year.
The jump amounted to $1,978,- 802, bringing the total to $12,732,-

060. The Borough showed an increase of $378,514, with total taxable assessments at $20,291,128.

Although the real estate and property assessments on the Shopping Center are listed as $822,000 (approximate), they constitute less than half of the year's increase. Housing developments, other home building and shifting of assessments from acreage to lots account for the greater part. Budgets have not yet been completed for 1955 so that it will not be known until February what effect the new rateables will have on taxes in the Township. Based on last year's rate, the new assessments would bring a sum in excess of $115,000 in taxes for county, school and municipal purposes.

Less Tracks, Less Tax, Princeton University will regain the use of some 15 acres of land and the State of New Jersey will lose a substantial portion of a $10,000 annual tax payment as the result of a decision by the Pennsylvania Railroad to remove a portion of its tracks here and on the three-mile spur to Princeton Junction. Park M. Roeper, superintendent of the railroad's New York Division, announced that the move was being made in the interests of economy and characterized the State's tax rate on railroad property as "exorbitantly high."

Mr. Roeper's announcement had a "sign-of-the-times" note to it. "Twenty-five years ago," he pointed out, "it was commonplace for the railroad to run as many as 44 special trains into the Princeton yards, carrying 20,000 people to a big football game. In recent years, three or four trains have amply held the 1,200 people we have been carrying from New York and Philadelphia to a major contest."

Most of the yard tracks will be removed, he said, as will one of the two lines, connecting Princeton with the Junction. When the work has been completed, the 15 acres used for many years by the Pennsylvania will be returned to the University.

A start on the project is scheduled immediately, Mr. Roeper said. The track to be left in operation is planned to be adequate for shuttle service and the reduced volume of special trains.

Toward Improved Service, The Pennsylvania also made news this week with an announcement of increased express train service for travelers to New York and Philadelphia. At the same time, it plans to discontinue a number of locals which a survey shows are no longer needed in the present number.

The railroad reported that commuter schedules will not be affected by the proposed changes, planned to be in operation by early March. Prior approval is essential from the Public Utility Commission.

The additional stops planned at Princeton Junction will give travelers to and from New York the choice of 25 express trains a day from Monday through Friday. Careful scheduling of remaining locals is planned so that those covering shorter routes will not be inconvenienced.

New stops listed for the Junction to New York will be 11:46 a.m.; 2:45, 9:05 and 10:19 p.m. One additional express stop for Philadelphia - bound passengers will be made at 12:51 p.m.

Locals to New York to be discontinued are those now stopping at 11:22 a.m.; 1:27, 3:01, 9:13 and 10:03 p.m., while a west-bound train now arriving at 1:39 p.m. —Continued on Page 4

It's New to Us

On the House. Travelers who take their meals in hotels, planes, ships, railroad cars and restaurants, or convalescents who eat from a hospital tray are familiar, whether they know it or not, with the Sexton brand of food-stuffs. For over 50 years, buyers for large eating establishments have known the value of the Sexton line of wholesale foods. Now the firm has branched into the retail world and the Princeton store—that carries Sexton products is Schaefer's Market, 350 Nassau.

This Saturday, January 22, you may stop at Schaefer's any time during the day, listen to the Sexton demonstrator and sample his wares. You will find foods for every corner of your kitchen: green olives, corn relish, tomato preserves, smoked shrimp for side-dishes, soups that span the shelf from family-style New England clam chowder to a fine snapper, with tomato, chicken or pea lined up in between.

Vegetables include, besides the staples, artichoke hearts, tiny or potato sticks. For your next batch of sparrows, try the Sexton barbecue sauce and consider the French dressing, various vinegars and the Newburg sauce.

Fruit juices, canned fruits and a row of dietetic foods round out the display. There is Sexton coffee, too—a premium grade blend of Brazil, Santos, Colombia and Mexican coffees, selling for two or three cents above the standard brands. The Sexton tea is quite unique in our experience: a Darjeeling done up in tea bags. We hope the demonstrator prepares a brew—that's a cup of tea we'd like to try.

Away We Go. Well, it seems to be 'cruise and south time' again and the dress shops have plumage ready for the migration. Mayne Mead, 188 Nassau, has cottons, light-weight wools and silks ready for the take-off.

The Judy and Jill line enters to junior sized travelers. A pale pink cotton has deeper pink flowers on a fabric cut to demure lines. A similar style, more sophisticated perhaps, has fish in greens and chartreuse.

Pink gingham, quarter-inch square, starts with a small mandarin, the prevailing collar this spring so far as we can tell—proceeds to a yoke banded twice with inch-wide lace and finishes with a gathered skirt. Another pink has the strength of 85% cotton and the sheen of 15% silk. On its surface are shaded pink dots in different sizes. The torso is long and there are no sleeves.

Father along the pink spectrum we found—how could we miss it!—a strident raspberry two-piece cotton whose squaw skirt is banded at the bottom with gold brocade edged with solid gold—well, solid gold lame, anyway—scallop. The dress yoke repeats the gold band.

Golfers who cherish McMullen will reach for a sleeveless golfer in white with chestnut black lines and occasional splashes of red, green and yellow. Another white is in linen with pink and wine flowers embroidered on it, and a deep rose-colored jacket. There is also a white with blue embroidery.

ery. These dresses come in larger sizes.

Grey and pink dots intermingle on a silk sheath with narrow shawl collar. Flat pearl buttons like quarters go from neckline to hip but the waist is natural and not long. Pettit's makes a linen with olive and tangerine abstractions for the smaller figure.

If you're staying north of Mason-Dixon, buy a Davidow suit from Mayne Mead's new spring line. Davidow likes, this year, a tweed mixture of white and deep rose that looks like raspberries with cream. Another suit is gold color with a shorter jacket than most and a buttoned tab at the cuff. Navy is here, of course, for that wardrobe classic.

Sears for Spring. Shoppers who would rather do it in a comfortable armchair by the telephone will respond to the new Sears, Roebuck spring and summer catalog with its well-known values. What's new this season?

In the junior dress department, the catalog shows three prints with matched accessories: one has a parrot just like itself, another has gloves cut from the same bolt, a third has a tote bag that's a carbon of the print. Each outfit is $3.98.

Mothers of anybody up to a size four may buy a two-piece sailcloth playsuit that looks like mink's; it's navy or red, stitched in white with a midy-like overblouse and boxer shorts, for $2.98.

In the home-furnishings section of the new catalog we found new pieces of unpainted furniture. One is a panel cabinet with sliding doors to hang on your wall, another is a three-drawer chest, —Continued on Page 10

It also be removed from the schedule. In addition, a New York luel at 6 p.m. will replace a current 5:22 departure, while a Philadelphia local now arriving at the Junction at 10:38 a.m. will be replaced by one arriving at 10:01 a.m.

Changing suburban needs have been carefully studied in planning the new schedules, the Pennsylvania said. Its statement reported that "close observation has established the fact that Princeton is interested primarily in fast, through service to and from Newark and New York, and makes relatively little use of the suburban service."

Burglarly Suspect Arrested. A charge of burglary was made against Rocco Frassetto, 28, of 88 West Prospect St., Hightstown, after he had been arrested early Wednesday morning in Davidson's Supermarket, 172 Nassau Street. Police said that Frassetto, a former employee there, had gained entrance by removing several entrance to the back door, where he was unarmed.

Frassetto was seen by a University proctor shortly before midnight, who reported his presence in the store to borough police. Found in the cellar, he is believed to have taken from one to five cartons of cigarettes but no money, the police reported. Sergeant Peter J. McCrohan and Detective Daniel Hagadorn made the arrest.

Fire Report. Exactly half the time the Princeton Fire Department spent answering general alarms last year was in vain, figures released by George Calligan, chief during 1954, reveal. Nine of the 18 alarms that brought out all three companies were false.

Ninety-nine alarms in all were recorded, Mr. Calligan reported. Thirty-one of these were "false" alarms, bringing one or two pieces of apparatus by telephone, while members of the borough and township police departments handled 50 smaller blazes. Of the 59 alarms, 58 were far fires in the borough, 38 in the township and three in near-by municipalities. Charles J. Rocknak, a member of the borough council, will serve as chief throughout 1955.

Dance Committee Named. Friday, February 4, has been set as the date for the annual dance held to benefit the May Margaret Fine Endowment Fund of Miss Fine's School. It will take place at 10 o'clock in the school gymnasium, with music by Meyer Davis. Members of the committee are Mrs. Thomas R. P. Alsop, Mrs.

10,000 Tickets

More than ten thousand tickets for various parking violations were issued last year and Mercer Street was the town's top speedway, according to figures for 1954 released by Police Chief John H. Smith. Of the summonses issued, 9,548 went to those who forgot their meters; 865 were for all-night parking; 475 for infringing on prohibited zones; 295 for improper parking and the balance for blocking driveways, crosswalks, firehouses, etc.

One hundred and thirty speeders were stopped on Mercer Street, more than on all other streets in the borough. Harrison Street North was next, with 23, followed by Stockton Street with 22 and Bayard Lane with 14. Only 128 drivers were brought into court for the offense throughout the year.

George F. Brown, Mrs. Daniel D. Dickey, Mrs. William H. Flag, Mrs. George S. Gordon, Mrs. Bradford B. Locke, Mrs. Richard K. Poynter, 3rd, Mrs. David B. Sloan, Mrs. P. Mackay Sturges, Mrs. Everett P. Tomlinson and Mrs. John H. Wallace, Jr.

Cavanaugh Sentenced. Cornelius J. Cavanaugh, Kingston house painter who killed his wife, Emma, here last October by striking her over the head with a bottle during an argument, has been sent to State Prison for a term of 10 to 15 years by Judge Hutchinson in Mercer Court.

Judge Hutchinson commented that he was invoking a relatively light penalty for the crime. The court said a sentence up to 30 years could have been imposed.

The judge declared that he was taking into consideration the defendant's age (52) and the fact that investigation showed there was provocation for the fatal quarrel. He pointed out, however, that Mrs. Cavanaugh's conduct did not give the defendant the right to take her life. The fatal quarrel occurred at the couple's daughter's home here on North Harrison Street.

Chinese Restaurant to Open. Chan's Chinese Restaurant will be the newest addition to the Shopping Center with its opening scheduled for this Monday (the Chinese New Year). The restaurant will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 12 noon to 9 on Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Chan, proprietors of the new 100-seat restaurant, formerly operated a Chinese restaurant in Brooklyn. They will offer a wide range of oriental foods, specializing in Cantonese cooking, with American dishes also on the menu. They also plan to offer cooking to take home.

Eagles to Launch Balloons. "Freedom Balloons" dramatizing the Crusade for Freedom campaign for "Truth Dollars" for Radio Free Europe will be launched on February 12 by members of the Nassau Aerie, Order of Eagles.

Joseph E. Rauch, president of the Nassau Aerie, announced that 20 helium-inflated balloons (capable of floating 600 or 700 miles) will be launched at Princeton High School. The seven-foot-high balloons will be of the same type sent over communist-dominated countries by the Crusade for Freedom.

The launching here will be one of hundreds throughout the country. The ceremonies are being planned by a committee headed by Joseph H. Hunt Jr. Members include John Fugill, Albert Rauch, Walter Eman, Joseph Wilson, Peter Fiumencro, Harold Wilson, Thomas Fetzer, James Skillman and Frank Warren.

Smith College Auction Set. The annual auction sponsored by the Smith College Club of Princeton to provide scholarships for girls from the Princeton area has been scheduled for Saturday, January 29, in the gymnasium of Miss Fine's School, starting at 10 a.m.

Lester Slatoff of Trenton will be the auctioneer. Luncheon will be available and home-made cakes and cookies will be on sale. The auction was started in 1950, when $1,850 was raised for the college's 75th anniversary fund and $400 for a scholarship. In the next four years some $4,500 was raised, providing scholarships for seven Princeton girls.

Items for the auction have been contributed by residents of the community, as well as club members. Stores contributing have included Clayton's, the Cummins Shop, Farr Hardware, Millholand and Olsen Decorating Shop, Nassau Interiors, the Princess Shop, the Princeton Gift Shop, the Silver Shop and the Town Shop.

Delinquency Discussion. "Services for Predelinquent and Delinquent Children" were discussed by a four-member panel at the second of five meetings on the subject "How Does Princeton Meet the Needs of its Children" sponsored by the Council of Community Services.

Members of the panel were Dr. Warren G. Findley, Jack Barden, psychologist of the Borough schools; Howard Stepp, Borough juvenile referee and University registrar, and Douglas McNeil of the state Department of Institutions and Agencies.

The group concluded that Princeton has a problem of juvenile delinquency, much as any community of comparable size, and made a number of recommendations for the situation. While asking for parent cooperation, the panel felt:

"Adequate recreational facilities, including summer camps for children who must remain in town the year round; wider use of existing youth organizations and full community support of new ones such as the joint YMCA-YWCA building, will do much to give more youngsters that important sense of belonging which helps to keep them out of trouble."

Peter Cook Exhibits. The collection of portraits and landscapes by Peter Cook, on view at the Present Day Club through January 30, offers an unusual opportunity to examine the growth of an artist's skill. Ranging over the past seven years, the portraits show an increasing ability to handle flesh tones and nuances of light and shade in such a way that the subjects seem alive with light. It is an effect that is particularly suited to the young children Mr. Cook paints so often.

onel James P. Barney, display the beginnings of this technique: a skin tone that is vivid without luminosity. But in the characteristic later portraits, one of Jane Kales and one of young Peter Pyne, the subjects' features fairly glow with light.

Of the landscapes perhaps the most interesting is one of a monastery near Portofino, in Italy. Here, a cliff and an arm of the sea provide the background for the sunny walls of an old monastery. In this study, Mr. Cook has used a very light ground, overlaying it sparingly with color for an effect of airiness and sunshine. It is a technique that is well-suited to landscapes but does not come off quite so well in a portrait of an Italian gardener.

A more sweeping landscape is one near Florence, where Mr. Cook has looked down on a series of hills and pastures and sought their subtle gradations of color. In a scene somewhat closer to home, he has painted Lake Carnegie under a lowering winter sky with members of the Cook family—whom you can identify if you know who to look for skating about on the ice. This picture has never been shown in Princeton before but has been exhibited at the National Academy show in New York.

Almost two dozen Princetonians are represented in the portraits chosen for this loan exhibition. In addition to Dean Aldrich and Colonel Barney, there are portraits of Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Jane Kales; Edward L. Pierce; Carol Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irving Harris; Mrs. Charles Link; Peter Wood, son of Dr. and Mrs. Perry Wood; Kitty and Johnny Becker, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Becker; Roger, Sandy and Peter, three of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kirkpatrick; Peter and Louise Morse, children of Dr. and Mrs. Maiden Morse; Miss R. Dilworth; Jimmy Hubby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Hubby; Peter Pyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Insley Pyne; Amanda Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Wright; and Fleur Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Perry.

A graduate of Princeton in architecture with the class of 1937, Mr. Cook became interested in painting while he was in college and worked with John Falmes in New Hope. After graduation he studied in New York at the National Academy of Design and the Art Students League, in 1939 he won a Pulitzer traveling scholarship and in 1944 the Second Hallgarten Prize.

"Forgiveness Week" has been announced by the Children's Department of the Public Library, to start Saturday and run through February 1. During this time, any child with a juvenile book in his possession that was due before January 1 may return it without paying a fine.

The library announced that the privilege was being extended to prevent one or more children from losing use of the building because of accumulated fines. It added that the offer should be acted upon now, since it will not be repeated.

News of the Churches

"University of Life." Members of the Methodist Church and interested members of the Princeton community are invited to join the annual "University of Life," sponsored by the church to provide an opportunity for pre-Lenten study and discussion.

Dr. Hans Hofmann, Assistant Professor of theology and psychology at Princeton Theological Seminary, will lead discussion groups at the church on four successive Wednesday evenings beginning next week at 6 p.m. His general theme for the sessions will be "What Does It Mean to Live by Faith?" and the first topic of the series will be "What Do We Mean by Personal Faith?" Dr. Hofmann is a native of Switzerland with degrees from the Sorbonne, the University of Zurich and a diploma from the Jung Institute of Psychoanalysis in Zurich.

The programs will begin each Wednesday with a covered dish supper, and will last until 8:30. Following supper, there will be group singing, led this Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stroup.

The classes will start at 7:15. Children in the primary class will study "The City" under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Shaw. Juniors and Intermediates will be led by David Meekhof. There will be a nursery for smaller children.

Union Services. The three Presbyterian congregations of Princeton will gather at the Witherspoon Church this Sunday at 8 p.m. to hear the Rev. Ralph S. Carpenter, Chaplain of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. The Rev. Mr. Carpenter is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary and has been with the Institute for the past year. At this service, Arthur Temple of the First Presbyterian Church will sing Liddle's "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling" and Scott's "The Voice in the Wilderness."

Chapel Vespers for all three Presbyterian churches will be held from 5 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday in the Chapel of the First Church. The Rev. Dr. John R. Bodo will be in charge.

REGULAR SERVICES

Lutheran of the Messiah. "Faith That Solves Life's Problems" is the subject chosen by the Rev. Milton J. Nauss, pastor, for his sermon at 8:30 and 11 a.m. this Sunday. Bible Class and Sunday School will meet at 9:45.

Christian Science. For this Sunday at 11 a.m. and 8:15 p.m., the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth," with a text from the 57th Psalm, third verse. Sunday School will meet at 11 a.m., and the usual Wednesday evening testimonial will be held at 8:15 p.m.

Witherspoon Presbyterian. "Taking Christ for Granted" is the subject of the 11 a.m. Sunday sermon by the Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson. On Wednesday at 8:15, Dean Hay, student from Princeton Theological Seminary, will lead the service.

University Chapel. The Rev. William A. Eddy, Jr., Episcopalian Chaplain on Proctor Foundation at Princeton, will preach the 11 a.m. sermon this Sunday.

Unitarian. "Getting the Word of Truth into Print" is the Sunday sermon topic of the Rev. Straughan L. Gettier. The service will be held at 10:45 a.m. at Avalon, 59 Bayard Lane. The Minister's Seminar for 7th, 8th and 9th grades will meet from 9:45 to 10:30, and at 10:30 the church school classes will meet for a sermonette by the minister, "The Unseen Lady in the Vacant Lot." On Sunday evening at 7, Dr. George Fowler, President of the New York Zen Buddhist Society, will speak to the Liberal Religious Youth group at the Nassau Street YWCA.

Trinity at Rocky Hill. Robert Hybel, Seminarian assistant, will lead morning prayer at the 11 a.m. service this Sunday. Church school will meet at 10.

and there is a sliding panel bookcase with or without drawer, and a record cabinet.

Some pieces have black metal legs with brass trim. Prices on all the pieces are under $18, and some of the smaller ones are considerably less.

With an eye ahead for summer, the Sears catalog shows a page of wading pools, including a new one 8 by 10 feet, 20 inches deep, big enough to swim in if you aren't too big yourself. It's $44.95. A new playground set has all the features of a circus: slide, glide swing, basketball unit, shower coupling waiting for the garden hose to make a shower, trapeze bar, chinning bars, two standard swings and some gym rings for $32.95.

All Wool and Knee High. So Christian Dior disapproves of women's knees and believes they should be kept from view. Not so the hosiery mills. Here is a sock called Bonnie Doon that comes to the brink of the knee and stops right there. It's all-wool, colorfully argyle, and it shows its knee to customers at The Betty Wright Store, 144 Nassau.

The price is $4.95. In plain shades, like the clear shell pink, the unusual banker's grey, green, or camel, the Bonnie Doon costs $1.95. You may also buy knee socks at Betty Wright for as low as 79c.

New blouses for the season show small figures against backgrounds of strong color. Black native dancers perform against blue-green, red or pink. Thin-fingered gloves—or are they hands?—are silhouetted in violet, black or blue against a white blouse.

Three-quarter-inch stripes that look like plicated ribbon are laid on dark colors and are themselves the background for minute figurines. Most of these blouses have short "baby" sleeves, and cost $4.95.

Lay It On . . . the pattern, that is, and begin to sew yourself toward spring. The Fabrie Shop, 6 Chambers, has some new denims; over 16 colors, and all of them woven solid without that white warp that goes through a standard denim. This means a strong, bright red, blue or whatever, that looks almost like sailcloth.

Nylon organdy, dotted Swiss, or flocked organdies in pastels are bewitching on little girls at a summer party. These come in 45-inch widths so that you buy very little for a child's dress. Cotton organdies come in prints or plain pastels, or such off-heat shades as charcoal, steel grey or black—not always easy to find.

Blocks used last year to print a fine silk have been taken out of storage and used again on a broadcloth that sells for less than $1 a yard. Other fine broadcloths include a balloon cloth that has an exceptionally fine weave. New spring Simplicity patterns at the Shop should give you the final push to go ahead.

News of the Theatres

McCARTER THEATRE

First stop on the national run of "The Tender Trap" will be the McCarter this Friday and Saturday evenings. There will also be a Saturday matinee for the comedy, and tickets for all performances are on sale at the University Store (tel. 3333) and Bamberger's service desk (tel. 5300).

Kent Smith, a leading man of the stage and most often Helen Hayes'; K. T. Stevens, making her first stage appearance since "Laura" in 1946, and Russell Nype, a hit opposite Ethel Merman in "Call the Madam" are the starring threesome for the show about the romantic wiles and wiles of upper East Side bachelors. Janet Riley plays THE trap of all the sundry traps.

Also forthcoming on the McCarter scene is a single performance on Monday, February 7, of Yma Sumac and her company of Andean dancers, drummers and musicians. Miss Sumac is widely heralded as an Inca "legend," being the possessor of an amazing voice which ranges through nearly five octaves. Mail order seats are now being accepted (see advertisement).

PRINCETON TELEVISION

If the "inquiring minds" which the "Princeton '55" television series is seeking as an audience like to use their ears, then they must have enjoyed Professor Arthur Mendel's program on Sunday entitled "The Instruments of Bach's Orchestra."

The truth is that few are willing to listen, but most of those who were probably brought musical experience which can make such a show a pleasure. To enjoy it, one had to be able to hear the difference between sounds, an ability which escapes most of the projected "Princeton '55" audience.

Still, the program was more than worthwhile. Professor Mendel's intensity in the midst of a well-planned program was a remarkable experience—once again the kind of thing which commercial television should be proud to offer.

The series will be interrupted this coming Sunday for a special telecast of the NBC Symphony. It resumes the following Sunday with Professor Joseph Brown on "Shaping Things, and Vice-Versa."

CHILDREN'S SERIES

"The Little Red Shoes" will be the second offering of the Children's Entertainment Series, scheduled for Wednesday, February 2, at 3:30 in the McCarter. The play is a newly adapted version of the Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale, designed particularly for children in grades one through eight.

The Children's World Theatre will present the production, having scored with young people of the Princeton area in its opening "Sinned the Sailor" presentation. The first show in the series, sponsored for the 23rd year by the Borough Elementary Schools PTA, was a near sellout.

Tickets for the coming performance (at $1.35, 85c and 40c) may be obtained by writing Children's Entertainments, 80 Murray Place, Princeton, or telephoning 2090-J. The McCarter box office will open at 1 p.m. before the performance.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Three Ring Circus (Jan. 19-22) puts Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in a most natural setting. The combination of their fun-making and lively circus scenes should make this an entertainment package for most anyone. Jerry is a clown, naturally, and a classic one. The cast includes Joanne Dru, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Wallace Ford, Elsa Lanchester, and the entire Clyde Beatty circus. Vista-Vision and Technicolor.

The Silver Chalice (Jan. 23-25) is an adaptation from the "Biblically" novel of the same name, and a poor one at that. So much production (in CinemaScope and Technicolor) went into the film that its story and people get thoroughly lost. The players are Jack Palance, Virginia Mayo, Pier Angeli, Walter Hampden, others. Spectacular, and not much. The long show is continuous from 1:30 on Sunday, and plays at 2:30, 6:30 and 9 Monday and Tuesday.

Vera Cruz (Jan. 26 - Feb. 1) puts the redoubtable Gary Cooper and Burt Lancaster together for

ANDERSON CONCERT

A few tickets (at $4 and $3.50 only) remain at the University Store for the Marian Anderson concert scheduled as a benefit by the Friendship Club of Princeton for this Monday evening at 8:30 in the McCarter. The committee for the concert, which will raise funds for activities such as scholarships, is headed by Mrs. Bertha Brandon, club president.

Other members include: Mrs. Rose Jennings, vice-president; Mrs. Eva M. Sewell, secretary; Mrs. Mathew J. English, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Anderson, Mrs. Dorn Blanton, Mrs. Rebecca Dudley, Mrs. Ollie Dozier, Mrs. F. Douglas Epps, Mrs. Nellie Geary, Mrs. Rex Goreleigh, Mrs. James C. Gripper, Mrs. Beulah Jordan, Mrs. Margaret S. Miller, Mrs. Pleasant Phox, Mrs. Lena Smith, Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood Sr., Mrs. James Yancy, Mrs. Clyde Woody, Miss Julia Brown and Miss Arlene Young.

was impossible to discern any dynamic subtleties in Miss Emmons phrasing. Only extreme contrasts of forte and piano were clearly audible, while the sensitive swells and diminuendos were lost in a blur of sound reverberations.

The first half of Miss Emmons' program suffered from a lack of contrast in her material. All of the Pizetti songs had a sustained quality. Similarly sustained in texture were the songs of Paul Nordoff, Douglas Moore, and two of Jack Beeson's three songs. It was a welcome relief to hear Jack Beeson's second song in a fast tempo in 6/8 meter utilize a staccato texture. Discounting the sustained-sound impressions produced by the poor hall, it is necessary to point out that Miss Emmons' material itself was much too "sostenuto."

More interesting was the second half of the concert in which a series of South American songs by Mignone, Guarneri and Villa Lobos were admirably performed. Finally, the long awaited contrast arrived; for most of these songs had a rhythmic vitality and wit as well as a tender expressive quality. "Lara," from Tres Poemas Indigenas by Villa Lobos, was the most stirring of the group.

The last series of songs was again by American composers. David Diamond was represented by "David Weeps for Absalom," an excellent song; Ernst Bacon by "Little Stone;" John Edmunds by "The Falcon" and "Barney Ross;" and Ned Rorem by a fine setting of "Alleuia" in 7/8 time.

Notwithstanding the obstacles inherent in the program and the echoing hall, Miss Emmons and Mr. Zimmerli gave a professional performance which was warmly received.

PRINCETON SYMPHONY

The program for the February 1 concert of the Princeton Symphony Orchestra will open with Haydn's Symphony No. 82, "L'Ours." Tickets for the McCarter Theatre concert are now on sale at the University Store (tel. 3333).

A Concerto Grosso, written in 1953 by Warren Martin of the Westminster Choir College faculty will follow the Haydn work. After the intermission, Mathilde McKinney will be the soloist in Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 4, and the Intermezzo from the "Hafi Janos Suite" by Kodaly will conclude the varied program.

The Princeton Symphony will again be under the baton of Nicholas Harsanyi. The organization draws on the remarkable musical talent available in Princeton, and two of its newest members are comparative "youngsters."

PROCTOR HALL

Shirlee Emmons

A concert of music composed in the 20th century was presented in Proctor Hall of the Graduate College Sunday by Shirlee Emmons, soprano. Miss Emmons, accompanied by Kenneth Zimmerli, first sang four songs from "Le Cinque Liriche" by Idelbrando Pizzetti. In rendering this cycle and the songs which followed Miss Emmons revealed a fine dramatic voice, an especially rich high register, an exceptional technique and an ability to convey expressively the meaning of each lyric.

Because of the dreadful acoustics in Proctor Hall—the voice so furiously resounds from the walls that one is uncomfortably reminded of an echo chamber—it

Sports in Princeton

Time Out. Having completed their best week in many a year (see back), Princeton's winter sports teams will be out of action until a week from Saturday, when the term-end examinations are completed. The only contest that weekend will bring American International College from Springfield, Mass., to Baker Rink for a night hockey game. Other Tiger outfalls will wait until the week of January 31 to resume action.

Dick Vaughan's hockey team has spent the past week harking in the pleasant knowledge that it is at the top of the Ivy League standings. Should Yale beat Dartmouth, as expected, at New Haven this Saturday, the Elis will tie the Nassau entry, but the fact that the young Princetomians have been in first place at all is a major tribute to their experience to play winning hockey.

It was such an attitude that sparked one of the best games in recent years in Baker Rink last weekend. Brown's last skating sextet, which had tied defending champion Harvard earlier in the week, provided the opposition. At the end of more than two hours of topflight action, Princeton had provided a 4-3 upset.

It took a three-goal rally in the final period against the Tigers' best goalie, Eddie Halvorsen, to turn the trick. The Tigers did it because they outlasted the visitors, beating them to a loose puck four times in Brown territory. Every Princeton goal was the result of a rebound which the Bruins' defense could not care for and on which Halvorsen was beaten while slightly out of position from having cleared the previous shot.

Third Line Sizzles. The constantly scrapping third line finished three of the Tigers' goals. Gordie Wilson being credited with the first two. Evis Longstrech accounted for another, with Charlie Hauser getting assists on all of them.

Captain George Hackl scored Princeton's other goal, Charlie Pratt and defenseman Bill Smith setting it up for him. The latter played in place of Mike Erdman. Boudinot Street resident who had the misfortune to break his right arm in two places when he hit the boards hard at West Point last week. The Tigers won there over Army, 6-1.

Wilson scored first, at 14:58 of the opening round, but Brown went ahead with two goals in the second period. Wilson tied the count shortly after the final period began, only to have the visitors take the advantage again at 7:32.

Hackl deadended the game five minutes later, and at 15:30, Longstrech beat Halvorsen with an angle shot from 15 feet on the left side. Goalie Bill Van Alstyne, who required a patch on the head for a cut from a stick during the final round, defended the thin margin beautifully in the closing minutes and was mobbed by his teammates at the end. He was credited with 25 saves to 26 for Halvorsen.

Quintet Still Shaky. A year ago, Princeton's basketball team lost two of its first three league games and then sharply reversed its form to work its way into a playoff with Cornell. As the mid-year exam break arrived, the Tigers were in better shape statistically than they were in January, 1954, but could not yet say they had played a good basketball game.

They got by Harvard last Saturday, as they had earlier in the week against Dartmouth, largely

Only One Got Away

Princeton's winter sports teams last week won 18 of the 19 contests in which they took part, losing only a freshman fencing match with Columbia. The composite performance is believed to be the best in a single week for the past 25 years.

Many of the decisions gained by the Tigers were extremely close. Both the freshman and varsity hockey teams came from behind, defeating, respectively, the Army Ploches, 5-2, and Brown, 4-3. The freshman basketball team won by three points over Rutgers '58, the freshman swimmers defeated the Army Ploches by two points, while at Hanover, the varsity swimming team edged Dartmouth when it won the final relay by a scant 12 inches.

because their defense was more effective than it had been in the first eight games. The Griffls fell behind by 24-8 at 11:36 of the first half and that proved to be a shade too much of a deficit to make up.

Princeton's offense, however, stalled out repeatedly, slowing so thoroughly in the second half that the visitors cut the margin to a mere 48-46. The Tigers' floor average was a very meagre 28.7, a caliber of play that will not stand up in the climactic February contests.

Harvard hung on briefly to keep the score at 51-48, but from there, Johnny Easton, John DeVoe, Dick Balt and Bud Haabeblad all connected for field goals and the contest went into the books as a 63-54 final. Like Dartmouth, the visitors were none too impressive in Dillon Gym but can make trouble for any team in the league on their own court. Harvard barely succumbed to Pennsylvania at Cambridge by two points, and the Indians trimmed the Quakers last week at Hanover by the same margin.

Cornell was also beaten last week, Columbia's highly-promising quarter taking the Ithaca's measure by 26 points at New York after trailing at half-time. Since the Red, defending champion, has won the bulk of its games at home, it does not at the moment rank with either Penn or Columbia as the potential 1955 title-winner. Of their three league games to date, the Tigers are behind this trio.

The current standings, exclusive of a mid-week game between Yale and Dartmouth:

	W.	L.
Cornell	5	1
Penn	4	1
Columbia	3	1
PRINCETON	2	1
Dartmouth	2	2
Brown	2	4
Harvard	1	5
Yale	1	5

Other Big Victories. In addition to the hockey team's conquest of Brown, a number of other Princeton outfits, and especially the swimming team, noteworthy triumphs. The form chart indicated that Dartmouth should triumph in swimming, and the Green did take six of ten firsts, but the Tigers had the right man fresh for the 400-yard free-style relay, last event of the meet. Duke Hirt, who had won the 220 and 440, swam anchor against Fox Shennon of Howie Canoune's outfit, the latter coming from behind to win by a foot. It was a 46-38 final.

John Connors's squash team trimmed a highly-regarded Navy team at Annapolis, where the middies had not been beaten in more than three years. Paced by national intercollegiate champion Roger Campbell, the Tigers came home with a 6-3 triumph.

The fencers, whom Stan Sijca coaches, achieved a notable triumph over Columbia, nationally ranked at the top of the list last year and unbeaten in 17 consecutive matches. Princeton's 15-12 victory was the first in this sport over the Lions since 1949.

Jimmy Reed's wrestlers likewise knocked off the Lions, coming up with four falls in a 23-10 triumph. It was their first of the year, following the loss to Rutgers.

PHS Splits. Princeton High School's basketball team split last week, losing to Peddie, 70-61, before trimming Hamilton High in Trenton Friday night, 63-52. The Blue and White had a mid-week contest against Ewing Township and takes on Bordentown Mill-

Haabstad Passes 1,000

At 17:13 of the first half of the Harvard game last Saturday night, Captain Bud Haabstad became the first player in Princeton basketball history to make 1,000 points during his career. He finished the game with 27, giving him 1,014 and he has a dozen games left.

The 6-1 senior from Drexel Hill, Pa., holds five other Dillon Gym or Princeton records, including most points in one game (33) and most field goals (14). He now has 222 points in ten games, an average that will permit him to break his single season record of 459, compiled in three more games than are scheduled this year.

tary Institute here Friday and Bound Brook next Tuesday.

The Little Tigers led Peddie at half-time, 32-29, but could not maintain their advantage for more than the early minutes of the third period. Marv Trotman was high for both teams with 25 points, and Bob Montgomery clipped in 18, but the visitors had three players in double figures who accounted for 47 points among them.

Twenty points in each of the last two periods meant the difference against Hamilton Friday night. Tony Burke's quintet held only a 23-22 lead at the intermission but took charge during the middle of the third round and led by ten points during most of the final quarter.

Trotman again set the pace, as he has in every game this season, accounting for 23 points. Montgomery contributed 14 and Lee Ammerman 13. The victory set the PHS record at 3-3 before the Ewing Township contest.

Hun Loses Close Ones. Delbarton will furnish the opposition Saturday for the Hun School basketball team in a game to be played in the Seminary's Whitley gymnasium, the Red and Black's home court. A mid-week contest against Bayley-Ellard preceded the Delbarton game, while Morristown will be here next Tuesday.

Rough luck has dogged the Johnny Huns' trail. After a December loss to Rutgers Prep, the Red and Black's quintet dropped three straight games by two points. Solebury won, 46-44, in double overtime. George School took home a 55-53 decision and Bryn Athyn was victorious, 51-49.

WILLIAM MASSELOS: One of the most highly acclaimed young pianists in this country, Mr. Masselos will perform in Series One of the University Concerts on Tuesday, January 25, in the McCarter. He has recently become a resident of Princeton.

MUSIC IN PRINCETON

tist, is a University sophomore of 19. He plays a platinum flute, one of ten such flutes in existence. Another of them is owned by William Kincaid, one of this country's great musicians, under whom Mr. Solum studies. The young flautist has performed with the Minneapolis Symphony under Antal Dorati and was heard last fall as soloist with the University Orchestra, also directed by Mr. Harsanyi.

Another new member of the orchestra is John Harrison, a Princeton High student who studies composition with Mrs. McKinney, viola with Mr. Harsanyi, and plays jazz piano with the Edgehill Five. About to make his first appearance in the viola section of the Symphony, his Baroque Concerto for Strings was performed here last spring.

Also characteristic of the Princeton Symphony are two members of the violin section. Max Zinder, a well-known Princeton business proprietor who has also had a notable professional music career, plays with Marie Louise Moser, a Zurich, Switzerland, scholarship student at the Choir College. Mr. Zinder was a friend and concertmaster of Victor Herbert, a member of the Baltimore Symphony, and a member of the National String Quartet, which inaugurated the Library of Congress concerts.

Among the new members of the orchestra is Gloria Strassner, wife of a research scientist at the Forrestal Center. A Fulbright fellowship winner, she was solo cellist with the Baltimore Symphony and has recently been performing in Canada and the east.

Joseph Handlon, the new oboe and English horn player, is an instructor in the University's psychology department. He was a member of the official band for the International Exhibition of San Francisco and has played with the San Francisco Symphony and Opera.

UNIVERSITY CONCERTS

William Masselos, one of this country's rising young pianists and recently a new resident of Princeton, will be the solo pianist in the second concert of Series One of the University Concerts next Tuesday evening at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

Mr. Masselos has been a soloist with the New York Philharmonic and has won wide critical acclaim as an outstanding young performer. His father moved here from New York a few years ago and operates a Nassau Street picture business.

Mr. Masselos will offer a striking program for his McCarter appearance. He will begin with four sonatas by Scarlatti, those in E minor, E major, G major and D minor. Next will be the great Sonata in A flat major, Opus 110, by Beethoven.

Ravel's "Le Gibet" and "Scarbo" will conclude the first half of his program. The second half will be devoted to the First Piano Sonata by the late American composer Charles Ives. The work by the New England native was first performed by Mr. Masselos in 1949.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the University Store (tel. 3333). They will also be sold at the McCarter box office the evening of the concert.

an action film made mostly along western lines. With excellent Mexican settings (color, and for this one, SuperScope), the two stars get wrapped up with revolutionaries, gold, Denise Darcel and Sarita Montiel, Cesar Romero gets mixed in, too.

THE GARDEN

So This Is Paris (Jan. 20-22) is proper fare for the escapists, having a feathery plot which serves as a springboard for many musical numbers. Tony Curtis, Gene Nelson and Paul Gilbert play three sailors who hook up with Gloria DeHaven, Corinne Calvet and Marie Corday for various entertaining activities.

Rules of the Game (Jan. 24-26) stars Jean Renoir. In French with English subtitles, the film recently was ranked 10th in a listing of 63 "all-time greats." Not reviewed at press time.

Six Bridges to Cross (Jan. 27-29) stars Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie in a spanking new film which was not available for review at press time.

To Protect Your Child After Treatment:

Most of us know the role that moisture plays in the treatment of a child's upper respiratory ailments. For "All-Nighter" humidifiers are in constant demand for the treatment of croup and coughs due to colds.

But what about AFTER treatment?

How many of us realize the importance of home humidification then? To protect your child against the winter-heated dry air.

Remember, adequate humidification (35% to 40%) helps maintain healthy nose and throat membranes—a blockade to cold-causing organisms.

Therefore, when your physician recommends the use of a vaporizer, why not purchase the appliance that will serve TWO purposes. The "All-Nighter" does just that. It can be used as a vaporizer during treatment and as a home humidifier AFTER treatment. See us for full information on home humidifiers designed for any type of heat.

The All-Nighter, $8.95
The Half-Nighter, $4.95
